Introduction to Cryptography

Curtis Badke

Curtis has been working as a .NET consultant for DevFacto Technologies for the past 7 years and over the two years and a half has been building products on the Azure stack. When not frantically trying to keep up with the deluge of new offerings from Azure, Curtis dabbles in security research and swinging golf clubs.

As always I encourage the members of the group to send me any specific questions they have so that I can try to address them. Folks are welcome to email me at hello@curtisbadke.ca or contact me on the DevEdmonton Slack (@cbad).

Wrap-up

- Survey and prize draw! Constructive feedback appreciated.
